

Work Log - February 27, 2023

Work Log for the Second Working Day:

Completed Tasks:

Today I successfully set up the AWS working environment (GUO) and updated the environment log and key files on Github (GUO). Additionally, program packages for collecting weather data, future weather data, and vehicle information were prepared by JIN and JIANG.

I also planned the next working time, which is scheduled for 10-12 AM on the 28th (Tuesday) in the group seminar room in the James Joyce Library.

Upcoming Work Tasks for the Next Working Day:

For the next working day, my tasks include executing the data collection programs and collecting the corresponding data. Afterward, I will organize the collected data into a database and test if everything works properly.
